Courier readers are familiar with the suicide of Cashier Merchant at Brunswick on September 20, 1908, because of a shortage with his bank of $10,400; the settlement made with Mrs. Merchant by Judge Herring, and the subsequent litigation. In an article regarding this litigation the Kansas City Star of Monday said: "Herring, the president of the bank, in his effort to save the bank from loss, went to the Merchant home as a friend and adviser, Judge Johnson said. He told the widow and children that if they would make over to him $3,000 insurance on the life of Merchant and give a deed of trust on the home no one except the bank examiner and himself would know of the shortage. The widow did so, but later decided she had made a mistake and began proceedings to have the deed of trust set aside. The circuit court set it aside and Judge Johnson upheld the decision," remarking that Mrs. Merchant was under no legal or moral obligation to assume her husband's debts out of her own separate property left her by her father.

Recruiting Agent.

A Mexican spent some time in our city, and from conversation with him it would seem that he is a man of some rank in sympathy with the rebels in Mexico. The object of his mission seems to be to get the Mexicans who are engaged in railroad work in the United States to return to their native country to take up arms against the government. He is quoted as saying that the insurrection has assumed much greater proportions than the outside world has any idea, and that battles are fought every day that are not known outside of Mexico.—Carrollton Democrat. And while they are so engaged let a law be passed prohibiting their return.

Hogs as Harvesters.

The Missouri Experiment Station last week gave out the results of an experiment lasting three years, which shows large profits from feeding hogs on forage crops.

The average income per acre from clover forage was $34.11, from rape and oats $23.63, from corn and cowpeas $29.08 and from blue grass $17.71.

The estimates are all made on a basis of 60 cents a bushel for corn fed and 6 cents a pound for the pork produced. The results are important as indicating what may be accomplished when the hogs themselves do all the harvesting.

This bulletin, which is numbered 95, was written by Dean F. B. Mumford and C. A. Willson and can be had on request by writing to the Director of the Experiment Station, Columbia, Mo.

Birthday Surprise.

For the Courier: Mr. and Mrs. Marion Cox, four and a half miles south of Keytesville, had a great surprise May 2, relatives and friends coming in with well filled baskets to celebrate his 75th birthday anniversary. The table was spread with everything good and all had a bountiful feast, and as joyous a time as could be expected in the circumstances, as Mr. Cox is in ill health.

Mr. Cox has ten children, of whom seven are living, and those present were John Cox and family living southeast of Keytesville; James Cox and family and Walter Smith and family of near Rockford. His daughters that were present are Mrs. Tom Coy of near Abolt, Mrs. Mollie Thacker of Brunswick, Mrs. Lou Halterman of Eldon and Mrs. Maude Grimsley of Imogene, Iowa. He has 47 grandchildren, 16 of whom were present, and 11 great-grandchildren, 3 being present. Others present were Albert Richardson and family, Birt Guilford and family, Jim Cook and wife, Jesse Powell and daughter Louise, Mrs. H. M. Johnson, Mrs. B. H. Baldrige, and Misses Mary Coy and Goldie Peddicord.

This celebration will be remembered many years.
